I was born in Person County, North Carolina. My master's name was Moses Chambers. My mother was the daughter of a white man and a slave woman. She, with her brother, were given, when little children, to her master, and her sisters and brothers were brought up in the same manner. When her master married, she was given to his wife, who had several children. She was a very gentle and kind woman, and she treated her kindly. She was a good and faithful servant, and she worked hard to provide for her master's family. She was a kind and loving mother to her children, and she always tried to do her best to make them happy. Her children were all very fond of her, and they loved her dearly.

But one day, a slave known as Sally ran away from her master. She was a very brave and determined woman, and she did not want to be owned by anyone else. She knew that being a slave was not right, and she did everything she could to escape from her master. She was a very clever and resourceful woman, and she was able to avoid being recaptured for many years. She was a very brave and courageous woman, and she did everything she could to live a free and happy life. Her story is an inspiration to all who know about it, and it is a reminder of the hard times that slaves had to go through.

The结

Source Citation:
Curry, James. "Narrative of James Curry, A Fugitive Slave." The Liberator, January 10, 1840.

Published online by Documenting the American South, University Library, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill [https://docsouth.unc.edu/neh/curry/menu.html]

User Tags:
African Americans, antebellum, history, James Curry, North Carolina, North Carolina History, People, Personal History, slave narratives, Students, Teachers, Creative Commons BY-NC-SA

From:
LEAP NC North Carolina History: A Digital Textbook

Copyright Date:
2009

For Teachers:
From the subscriber on the 14th inst, boys, CARY, HENRY, and AL. Cary is about 22 years of age, light about 5 feet 8 or 10 inches high, no mark. Henry is of a dark complexion and has his forehead, and is about 5 feet 10. Alexander is very black, has a slight face occasioned by a fall from a horse, 5 feet 8 inches high. I will give $20 reward for the apprehension of said delivery in any jail in the United State can get them. All the boys can read tolerably well, and it is likely they will pass and will try to make their way out of the State. Person county, N. C. June 20, 1837.

William A.
Milton, June 20, 1837.

RUNAWAY

Rockingham Mineral