Home > Moses Ashley Curtis diary, September 1831 (page 2 of 7)

Moses Ashley Curtis diary, September 1831 (page 2 of 7)

hopef the country. It is thought that the insurs take of a week as to the time has rendered in abortine, at least not general. sept. 10th - News to Day of an intender ins son: ition in Willington & vicinity. This is a fine charge for our momen after the previous of I news & ba, - It appears that a Baptist can eting was to be holder about the first of Wet. which the blacks from several countries were to mble & commence their work. It was comman a free black who reported it, & one Dan, of the a freeman, formerly peaceable & trusty. accused of showing the magazine of pourder & arms to the renolters, it number of those implicated it is said, will inevitably lose le. I large coops of volunteers was speedily organized in The In Defence, I scouts sent out - Blef me! now the ex Deed & the women (some of them he women) taken place in are in a Desperate taking . - cb was sitting my hove this e i a seia - classe I her hands to me. " the 6. There's - excite What wit of an excitement! you a re very in in said

Usage Statement:

Public Domain

Public Domain is a copyright term that is often used when talking about copyright for creative works. Under U.S. copyright law, individual items that are in the public domain are items that are no longer protected by copyright law. This means that you do not need to request permission to re-use, re-publish or even change a copy of the item. Items enter the public domain under U.S. copyright law for a number of reasons: the original copyright may have expired; the item was created by the U.S. Federal Government or other governmental entity that views the things it creates as in the public domain; the work was never protected by copyright for some other reason related to how it was produced (for example, it was a speech that wasn't written down or recorded); or the work doesn't have enough originality to make it eligible for copyright protection.

Source URL: https://www.ncpedia.org/media/moses-ashley-curtis-diary-4