

call and response ^[1]

Type of Speech:

noun ^[2]

Definition:

a term referring to the alternation between two musical voices in a work, particularly that between a solo singer (the “call”) and a group chorus (the “response”)

Source URL: <https://www.ncpedia.org/glossary/call-and-response>

Links

[1] <https://www.ncpedia.org/glossary/call-and-response> [2] <https://www.ncpedia.org/category/parts-speech/noun>