"Lost provinces" was a term applied to the region of North Carolina consisting of the counties of Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chowan, and Gates. Because of their location north of the Albemarle Sound and the presence of rivers and swamps, they were isolated and difficult to reach except through Virginia.

Additional Resources:

Subjects:
Geography
UNC Press

Authors:
Powell, William S.

Origin - location:
Camden County
Chowan County
Currituck County
Gates County
Pasquotank County
Perquimans County

From:

1 January 2006 | Powell, William S.